Model and co-founder of East London based floristry Gloria Studio, Kasia is the girl next door that everybody wants to know!

With a keen interest in floristry, Kasia started working at a floral studio a few years ago, where she met her now business partner. Together, the two female founders opened Gloria Studio, named after their favourite Patti Smith song. Gloria Studio focuses on romantic and seasonal flowers arranged to reflect the natural ramblings of gardens and green spaces.

The nature of her business allowed her to organically create beautiful content and combined with Kasia's personal 70s inspired style quickly gained her traction across her Social channels, but in particular Instagram. Prominently featuring her blue staffy Lenny probably also didn't hurt growing her community.

Kasia has partnered with an array of fashion brands reflecting her eclectic and unique sense of style across a variety of digital campaigns whilst also having worked with hair brands showcasing her distinctive bleach blonde hair.

Over the years Kasia has also created teambuilding and creative workshops, which she offers to personal and corporate clients. These activities lend itself beautifully to open up conversations in a group whilst learning about floristry. The workshops can be tailored to any brand, company or event.
