Molly's unique beauty - having English and Jamaican roots - sparked interest from the modelling industry at an early age and she has modelled on and off ever since. She then caught the public's eye in 2018 when it was revealed that music legend Liam Gallagher is her estranged father. Contrary to perhaps certain stigmas of being a celebrity's daughter, Molly's focus has always been her education and she most recently graduated with 1st honours from Goldsmiths University with a degree in Sociology and Politics. Molly has always had a keen interest in philanthropy, working in particular closely with London's Centrepoin. In early 2023, Molly has shared her struggles with the diagnosis of Crohn's disease through announcing her ambassadorship with the non-profit organisation Crohn's & Colitis UK.

Molly's goal is to merge her worlds, using her public profile for a good cause whilst enjoying the opportunities the Fashion & Beauty industries hold for her.
